4. Risk of exposure to modern slavery

4.1 Our operations span across New South Wales. We source products and supplies from Australian and International suppliers, who in turn have local and international supply chains. We acknowledge that the risks of modern slavery may be heightened in some of our groups supply chains and operations as a result of the geographical location of some suppliers, our areas of operation, and the source of materials used in products supplied to us. We also acknowledge that, we lack visibility in certain overseas markets and this carries additional risks of modern slavery especially in secondary levels of our chain of suppliers and source materials used in our group’s goods and services.

5. Actions taken to assess and address modern slavery risk

5.1 During our reporting period we have put in place the following measures:

- 5.1.1 revising and updating our internal policies; and
- 5.1.2 reviewing supplier engagement processes and principles.

5.2 By the end of Calendar Year 2022, we intend to implement a modern slavery framework.

6. Assessing effectiveness of modern slavery risk management

6.1 During this reporting period, our focus was to gain a better understanding of our modern slavery risks and how such risks may be present in our operations and supply chains. At this early stage, we are unable to adequately assess the effectiveness of measures we have undertaken. However, we have commenced and will continue to work on developing frameworks and processes to ensure we can review the effectiveness of the actions we are taking to assess and address modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains.

6.2 Policies

The CBH Resources Group has formal policies already in place that are intended to promote ethical, legally compliant and socially responsible business conduct. The policies set out below, contribute to CBH Resources Group’s commitment to respect of human rights and addressing modern slavery risks.
